

PUBLICATIONS

1. A recurrent vesicular palmoplantar rash in a toddler. Eur J Dermatol. Soriano LF, Gilaberte M. SQuiz your knowledge: 2018 Oct 1; 28(5):724-726.
2. Hyperpigmentation following the Blaschko's lines: a subtle cutaneous manifestation of Turner syndrome with complex mosaicism. Deza G, Lopez Aventin D, Salido M, Espinet B, Gilaberte M, Pujol RM. Br J Dermatol. 2016 Dec; 175(6):1379-1381.
3. Multiple café au lait macules and Crowe sign. López Aventín D, Gilaberte M, Pujol RM. Arch Dermatol. 2011 Jun; 147(6):735-40.
4. Epidermal growth factor receptor gene numerical aberrations are frequent events in actinic keratosis and invasive cutaneous squamous cell carcinomas. Toll A, Salgado R, Yébenes M, Martín-Ezquerria G, Gilaberte M, Baró T, Solé F, Alameda F, Espinet B, Pujol RM. Exp Dermatol. 2010 Feb; 19(2):151-3.
5. A woman with acquired, diffuse, lanugo-like hair growth. Ferran M, Gilaberte M, Herrero-González JE, Pijuan L, Pujol RM. Med J Aust. 2008 May 5; 188(9):536.
6. Delayed foreign body granuloma secondary to an abandoned cardiac pacemaker wire. M Gilaberte, Delclós J, Yébenes M, Barranco C, Pujol, RM. J Eur Acad Dermatol Venereol. 2007 Jan; 21(1):107-9.
7. Recurrent and self-healing cutaneous monoclonal plasmablastic infiltrates in a patient with AIDS and Kaposi sarcoma. Gilaberte M, Gallardo F, Bellosillo B, Saballs P, Barranco C, Serrano S, Pujol RM. Br J Dermatol. 2005 Oct; 153(4):828-32.